

OUTSTANDING STUDENT IN WOMEN'S HEALTH AWARD

PURPOSE

The purpose of the 'Outstanding Student in Women's Health Award' is to recognize two student members of the Women's Health Dietetic Practice Group (WH DPG) who have exhibited outstanding service, leadership and accomplishment.

A. Criteria for the Selection of the 'Outstanding Student in Women's Health Award'

1. Current member of WH DPG
2. Not a previous recipient of the 'Outstanding Student in Women's Health Award'
3. Participated and/or provided leadership in WH DPG activities, such as committee service, newsletter contributions, and/or involvement in association activities at district, state and national levels
4. Demonstrated active involvement in health-related organizations (professional and voluntary), such as committee work at area, state, national organizations.
5. Developed, or was a contributor to, innovative approaches to the practice of nutrition in women's health for research and/or publications
6. Demonstrated involvement in academic course work, thesis or intent to practice in women's health

B. Procedure for Selection

The complete responsibility for the selection of the 'Outstanding Student in Women's Health Award' rests with the WH DPG nominating committee.

The coordinator is the WH DPG Awards Chair.

All applications will be scored blindly and in the event of a tie, the WH DPG Chair will make the final decision.

C. Action Following Selection

The two selected individuals will receive an award of $250.00 each and a certificate—presented at the WH DPG Business Meeting at the Food and Nutrition Conference Expo (FNCE).

The individual will also be featured in the Women's Health newsletter.
